

Red Flags of “Tribe-as-Survival” Thinking

- Belonging framed as survival, not love.
- Leaving or questioning cast as dangerous.
- Affection/support conditional on compliance.
- You are invisible or unsafe without the group.
- E.g.: “No one to tell how lonely you are if you don’t belong.”
- Growth or individuality discouraged.