

Always is an adverb that often proceeds the verb, as in - I always cry when I see a rainbow. Are there other adverbs that typically proceed the verb in a sentence?

Yes, there are several other adverbs that often precede the verb in a sentence.

Here are a few examples:

1. Often: She often travels for work.
2. Usually: He usually wakes up early.
3. Never: They never eat breakfast.
4. Rarely: We rarely go to the movies.
5. Sometimes: You sometimes forget your keys.
6. Frequently: She frequently visits her grandmother.
7. Generally: He generally arrives on time.
8. Seldom: They seldom argue.

These adverbs of frequency typically come before the main verb but after the verb "to be" when it's used as the main verb (e.g., "She is always on time").
