To make a word plural when it ends with s, x, or z, the general rule is to add -es to the end of the word. Here are the specific rules:

1. Words ending in -s: Add -es.
 - Example: bus → buses, class → classes
2. Words ending in -x: Add -es.
 - Example: box → boxes, fox → foxes
3. Words ending in -z: Add -es. Sometimes the final z is doubled.
 - Example: quiz → quizzes, buzz → buzzes

These rules help maintain the word's pronunciation and ensure the plural form is easily distinguishable from the singular form.
